THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2.

The decrease of the public debt for the month of January is $9,750,000.

A gentleman whose judgment is always reliable, says the inter-state commerce bill, if signed by the president, will cost the state of Wisconsin an extra one million dollars for freights, besides working an obstruction to commerce.

Colonel John S. Mosby, the ex confederate, says that there is more dissatisfaction in the south with Grover Cleveland than there was with General Grant when president, and that Grant would have done more for the south, had that section allowed him, than Cleveland has done at this late day, with the south as his champion and supporter. And yet the south remains solid, even against its own best interests.

Henry Watterson says he has seen Washington under ten administrations, and he never dreamed that such arrogance and insolence as now prevails there were possible. He would not, as a self-respecting man, venture to enter any department where he was not personally known. This must be the Jeffersonian simplicity Mr. Watterson boasted of having sent to Washington two years ago.

The Cauca will now feel like raising an army, crossing the border, marching to Washington and cleaning out Senator Ingalls. His latest attack on the "Mother country" is the following vigorous language:

There has been such a transfusion of the dry rot of anglo mania into our social system; such an adoption of the single eyelash and the "ugly" the jargon and the raiment of England; so much flippancy and whistlylabub, tea-custard and nonsense about kindred blood and the land of Shakespeare and Milton, that there has been temporary aberration of the intellect and a suspension of self-respect on the part of the American people, who forget that England is the only empire we have on the face of the earth.

The concluding lines of this peppery assault on England, may surprise some people, but there is a good deal of truth in the statement.

Mr. Winans has introduced in the assembly a joint resolution for a constitutional amendment which shall prohibit members of the legislature and judges of courts of record from accepting railway passes. For a good many years the idea has prevailed in the different states that legislators and judges were corrupted by the possession of free transportation on railways; and time and again attempts have been made by a few members of various legislatures to legislate against such a use of railway passes, but no striking reform has been effected in that direction. New Jersey has, however, enacted a law this winter looking toward a suppression of the pass business among members of the legislature, and Wisconsin, for the twentieth time, will also try to inaugurate a reform in that line.

It is a humiliating commentary upon our civilization and upon our legislature and courts that it should be thought necessary to adopt a constitutional amendment in order to keep legislators and judges in the path of official rectitude. The direct charge made by the offerer of this joint resolution, that the members of the Wisconsin legislature and the judges of the courts can not act independent of railway influence in the discharge of their official duties. Lawmen make the charge that judges are inclined to rule in favor of railway interests when they have complimentary passes in their pockets over all the lines of the road whose case is before them for trial; and it is also alleged that members of the legislature can not wisely legislate for the people as against railway corporations when the former are so generously provided with annual passes. Be this as it may, the proposed constitutional amendment will not mend matters. A constitutional law of that kind won't make a judge upright, neither will it cleanse the character of the members of the legislature. If they are not honest from principle, all the constitutional amendments conceivable will not make them free from corruption.

The spirit of Mr. Winans' resolution is a good one, but it is humiliating in the extreme that there should arise any occasion for its introduction.

THE LEGISLATURE.

To-morrow the McCann Contest Case Comes Up.

A Review of the Business Transacted To-day.

Special to the Gazette.

MAIDSON, Feb. 2, 1887.

IN THIS ASSEMBLY.

In the assembly this morning among the most important bills introduced were the following, authorizing Milwaukee to buy horses for the fire department and authorizing the issue of $150,000 river dredging bonds.

To protect trout in St. Croix county. To increase the penalty for keeping a house of ill fame from one to three years' imprisonment, and a fine of from one hundred dollars, minimum, to a maximum one hundred dollars.

IN THE SENATE.

A bill was introduced to reimburse Lorenzo Sackett with $10,000 for loss造成的 by the repossession of the charter of Milwaukee and Wauwatosa plank road in 1862, of which road he was the main stockholder.

Also to make the president of the university a member of the board of regents.

Changing the age of nonconscription in rapists from ten years to twelve.

To allow earnings to be seized for rent of tenets.

The McCann assembly contest case was made the special order of 10:30 a. m. to-morrow.

On the Dumps of Boston.

From 6 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon teams are coming out here and dumping their loads as often as once in ten minutes, so there are at least sixty loads a day brought to this dump daily. Of course a majority of the freight is coal ashes gathered from the hundreds and thousands of furnaces and stoves in the city. Of course the strike is the main cause of this. The men are using their strength to get the coal out of the furnaces and stoves in the city. Most of this has been sifted from the ashes collected in the city and there is a large pile of ashes and coal scattered through it, filling up the cracks at the furnaces. For these lots the dump drivers make a rush, hauling over the ashes and piling upon the lots of coal the way a flock of hens will go for spilled corn. The moment a cart goes on the promises all rush for the place where it is going to dump and stand there amidst the clouds of flying ashes until it is tipped.

Then comes a scene. Old women, young women, men and children rushing, jumping, pulling, hauling, talking and spattering away in English, Italian, Irish and German, grabbing for bits of wet and old clothing, tearing up papers, pulling out newspapers as if they were so many bank notes, and "going through" that load of rubbish in less time than it takes to tell it.

Every person has a push cart, a basket, a bag or a barrel in which the treasure trove is placed for safe keeping. There is no law and no custom to govern the distribution of the spoils. The spryest fingers and the quickest eyes get the lion's share. Possession is every point of law. If two persons get hold of the same thing at once the stronger carries it off. There is no fighting and but very little scolding. It is all business.

When the old coats and boots, the bags and boxes are all gone, the big packages and bundles are the last to go. They are taken with little care, having a long iron wrench with about three inches of the point turned up, to hook for coal. The bags of ashes are raked over and leveled off in a very few minutes, and every particle of coal picked out and stowed away in scuttles and baskets ready for use.—Boston Globe.

Authorizing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Dr. Price's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying, consumptive, at least to try one bottle, of $10,000 doses of the same will be sold you, and in one case where it failed, we will refund the money.

Striking Colliers Win a Victory.

A STRIKE AGAINST RENTS.

ASSEMBLY 49 IMPORTS THE IRISH PLAN OF CAMPAIGN,

Crane who introduced was voted as panel maker with good result. The agreement between Father Crane and Superintendent May is to the effect that the 500 strikers return to work at the wages demanded. There is great rejoicing.

Struck Without Authority.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—The executive committee of the Miners' National assembly arrived here Tuesday to investigate the strike of the Monongahela river miners. They say the strike was ordered without authority, and will try to induce the men to go to work. Nearly 6,000 men are out.

Declaratory War on the Knights.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The New York group of the Socialist party Tuesday night adopted resolutions which declare warfare on the Knights of Labor. In fact, all secret organizations are denounced, and Dr. Averill is roughly handled for advising Socialists to become Knights of Labor.

A CANADIAN INVASION.

BOSTON Captured by a Snowshoe Club—Fisby Humor.

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—The Last Trappers snowshoe club of Montreal arrived here Tuesday evening and were entertained by the city officials. At a banquet tendered to the club Tuesday night, Mayor Beaupre, of Montreal, referred to the fisheries troubles and expressed the hope that the disagreement would be amicably adjusted. When Governor Ames arrived he presented him with a pair of snowshoes and a floral emblem of the state of Maine, with the inscription "Your Excellency."

The City of Paris succeeded in sailing at 3 o'clock, and the Erin, of the National line, which ought to have sailed Jan. 27, is still at dock. Sixty men went out at the Monongahela line; eighteen left the Old Dominion, and twenty more quit work loading the Rhode Island, of the Stonington line, and the vessel did not sail Tuesday night. The same state of affairs is noticeable on the Lake Erie pier. Twenty men struck at the Erie River pier, and notices are displayed at all piers that men who do not accept a reduction of 25 per cent. will be subject to arrest on account of the strike.

It is rumored that five Americans are buried in a cargo of wheat in the hold of the steamer Pennland, now en route for Antwerp. According to the report six Italians, with six shovels, went down into the hold of the vessel to claim the grain. Six shovels and only four Italians are said to have come back. The strikers say the missing men are packed away in the wheat and will need the services of the coroner when the vessel arrives at Antwerp.

The New York and Jersey Central railroads having refused to accede to the demands of the freight-handlers the men were not at work Tuesday afternoon. The freight-handlers of the Lehigh Valley railroad at pier 2, North river, numbering 160 men, struck at 2 p. m. and joined the ranks of the strikers. The gates of the pier were at once closed. The Pennsylvania people say the strikers will never be taken back.

The employees of the steamer Guyandotte, in clearing away the debris of Monday's explosion on that vessel, found what seemed to be an infernal machine. It is sometimes used in making infernal machines, was well made and had a step-on it, in which may have been inserted in allowing cold from one chamber of the tube to penetrate through packing until it reached fulminite in another chamber, when an explosion would occur. This is the kind of an infernal machine Her. Most recommends in his book on explosives. The man who brought the machine aboard in a satchel was observed by several of the employees, who grew closely in their descriptions of him, and could identify him. He first placed the satchel near the engine, but the foreman ordered him to take it away, as no engine was allowed in that part of the boat. The steamship company, however, did not decide what reward to offer for the arrest of the dynamiter.

The Knights of Labor have decided to offer a reward of $500 for the detection of the person or persons who attempted to destroy the Old Dominion steamer Guyandotte. It being a question of the treasury, it can not come up for action before Sunday, when the resolution to offer the reward will be adopted.

Patrick McAllister, of the executive board of the Open Association, and John J. McAllister, another leader of the Longshoremen's strike, were arrested Tuesday in the suit of the Old Dominion company for damages.

The Boycott on ARMOUR.

Nearly 300 Chicago Firms Involved in the Move.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The Times says:

"The Knights of Labor are recklessly pursuing their intention to extirpate P. D. Armour, and District assembly No. 24 has placed a boycott on 400 local firms which are using his goods. A move of this kind is stupid and it is one of the most important ever made on the part of the Knights since the formation of the organization. They recognize in him the power that crushed them in the stockyards strike, and by forcing him to succumb they think would only be exercising justifiable retaliatory measures. They do not care so much about the other influential packers, but in Mr. Armour they say they have found an avowed enemy to their cause, and in the hope of crushing him they have not only boycotted him throughout the country, but they now propose to treat him as though he were a traitor. F. S. Dyer, secretary of the strike assembly No. 24, has been the recipient of reports systematically made, giving the names and addresses of those who deal in Armour meats. In some instances details are given as to what time Mr. Armour's wagons delivered the goods at certain stores, and the list apparently has been very carefully prepared and embraces 265 firms."

Mr. Armour on being told said he had no fear that the Knights of Labor could seriously injure his business by this move. If his meats were good and cheap there was no reason to treat him as though he were upon his dying bed. He also forbade any of the members of his church to speak to or in any way recognize McCoy.

In Court for Fifteen Years.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—The Mutual Life Insurance company of New York having become convinced of the justice of Mrs. William Wackerly's claim, have dismissed their appeal to the supreme court, and have paid her the sum of $5,000. This noted case has been awaiting settlement for fifteen years. The company denied that Wackerly was dead and essayed to prove it, but the lower court decided against them. The action will now stand as an independent institution.

When asked whether or not the Mutual Life Telegraph company was interested, Mr. Pace declined to speak definitely.

He said, however, that it would be sixty days before the payment would be completed, and that full notice would be given of the Mutual Union of the action of the company.

Special Agent of the Western Union and asked him if he would be interested in the purchase. He replied that the purchasers intended to secure a charter and run the concern as an independent institution.

ETIRE THE GREENBACKS.

SECRETARY MANNING PRESSES HIS VIEWS UPON THE HOUSE.He Again Urges the Retirement of the Greenbacks and Repeal of the Silver Coinage Law—Condition of the Treasury—Adverse Report on the Mrs. Logan-Tension—Allison's Warning.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 2.—Secretary

Manning sent a long communication to Speaker Cannon Tuesday in regard to recent resolutions of the house of representatives re-

specifying issues of treasury notes and the di-struction of United States notes, etc. The first of these resolutions inquired whether any money appropriated in the sundry civil bill, or any other government money, had been expended for the purpose of issuing treasury notes of larger denominations in lieu of notes of smaller denominations emission or retired. Secretary Manning, after observing that he has no authority to require

any such action, gave it as a firm opinion

of the states that have selected

such authority, it would not, except under

fresh instructions from congress, conceive it a duty to expend money for such a purpose;

and then adds that none of the appropriations referred to, not any other money belonging to the government, has been expended for such purposes.

The secretary then goes into a long argument in favor of paying the greenback debt

and a repeal of the compulsory silver purchase law. The secretary says that another species of our outstanding indebtedness,

namely, the legal tendors or greenbacks,

known in law as United States notes, are equally, with what the law designates as treasury notes, a species of paper money for pensions that are necessary, which are a debt of principal only; like notes which are a debt of principal and interest, should

at once be cashed and cancelled from the abundant and affluent coin in hand not now capable of being applied to any other use. The secretary says: "It is

This is so obvious a principle of sound finances, such as a prudent citizen would appreciate, that it would be superfluous to repeat that the treasury would be unable to proceed to departure therefrom by reason

it was not that the act of May 31, 1868,

seems to require of him that fiscal misstep.

And it left to submit to the house the bill, and to subtract the proposed amendments to the bill, and to send it to the Senate, and the house, and the Senate

should be avoided by that act can now

in any other and better way be proceeded that is to be intrusted to millionaires

and not to the house of representatives.

The second remedy is that all

"What debt, then, shall we pay?" the secretary asks, and goes on to argue that it would be an inexhaustable extravagance

to diminish the bended debt, not yet due by an-appropriatory purchase at a high premium, when under the operations of the sinking fund

every dollar of the national debt, greenbacks

and all, can be canceled by 1880.

And the third remedy is to make the funded debt at a high premium while successfully putting out of the treasury its currency tax surplus, and so preventing contraction in that form, is that method, nevertheless, which would contract the currency in another form by too

a large amount of surplus currency

based on the funded debt. It is therefore necessary now, not only to reduce taxation

in order to prevent surplus tax collecting from being contracted again

and again, but also to reduce the excess of our current and unavoidable tax surplus in the payment, not of funded but of the unfunded debt. The people's representatives, by action before adjournment, can relieve the country of this burden by the present congress can take effect, constitute a sum which can well go out of the treasury into the payment of the greenback debt. Coin certificates are ready and superior paper money to the greenbacks. The substitution

can be effected as a mere matter of treasury

order, and the public will be greatly improved by the payment of debts.

The repeal of the compulsory silver purchases in the first and indispensable condition, and the repeal of the compulsory post redemption issues of United States notes is the next and only other condition. These two repeals are together necessary, the secretary insists, to prevent on the one hand an extravagant expense, and on the other hand

a considerable contraction of the currency.

For a reply to the other resolutions of the Senate, see the article of Jan. 22.

Likewise, as to the cancellation of and 22

notes the secretary says: "That since Aug. 3, 1868, there has been a decrease by destruction of $3,601,000 of notes

and $5,957,000 in two's; an increase of $12,

000,000 in fives, and $10,000,000 in $10 notes.

APPROPRIATIONS TOO LIBERAL.

Likely to Annihilate the Surplus—Against

Mr. Logan's Pension.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 2.—On the ground

that her husband's death was the result of a quarrel with a comrade, the president sent to the senate Tuesday a vote of the bill giving a pension to Mrs. Margaret Dunham of Mississippi. Bills were reported to reimburse the depositors of the president's pension bank-

and to give a pension to the widow of Gen.

Logan and Mrs. Gen. Francis P. Blair. The

Senate refused to consider the army reorganization bill, and upon a motion to adjourn inaugued the bill in committee of the whole on the naval consolidation bill the Republicans refused to vote, leaving the house without a quorum, which course of action was persisted in until 3 o'clock in the morning. The bill was taken up, and the right of the house was given to the Republicans

to consider the army reorganization bill, and upon a motion to adjourn was voted down. The bill was then referred to a committee of the whole on the naval consolidation bill, and the bill was passed.

At the right of the house a number of military bills were passed, and also several private bills removing charges of desertion, and at 10 o'clock the house adjourned.

He Was Deliberate.

A French soldier was sitting on the summit of hill overlooking a garrison town;

his house was picked near by; the man was smoking leisurely and from time to time

glancing over his epaulette to a big official carriage he had in front.

A comrade passed by and said: "What are you doing there?"

I am bearing the president's pardon for my conduct," said the Frenchman, "and I am to be shot this morning."

"Well, well, man, why don't you hurry

along with your pardon?" said the comrade.

"No, no, Sir, there is hardly a soul on the front line of battle who has not been shot."

A Truth Lovers Prohibition.

To the Editor.

Whether the charge, now going the rounds in the papers, that the editor of the Wisconsin Prohibitionist knowingly published a lie relating to the moral and intellectual character of a private individual, placed before the people as a candidate for a high public office, is true or false, may be a matter of little interest to the general public, but to me it is of vital importance. I can have some respect for one who will lie in a horse trade, but none for a public liar for expediency's sake; and any paper containing such lies ought to be a house just as long as it takes a hot fire to consume it. I shall take steps to find the facts of the case, and hope and trust that the editor will come out innocent of the charge. I claim to be an uncompromising, consistent, truth loving prohibitionist, but I hate a liar, it possible worse than an atheist. Their's my sentiments.

J. M. ALDEN.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. Delicate people improve rapidly with its use. For Consumption, Throat Aection and Bronchitis it is unequalled. ## THE DENTRISK SHREW.

Success of the Entertainment at the Opera House Last Evening.

—August Spies, the anarchist, was arrested in Chicago yesterday to Miss Van Zandt, by proxy. If this practice should become common, none of us would be safe, for we might wake up some morning to find ourselves married to a man or woman we would not have under any circumstances. If there was before any doubt as to the justice of his condemnation to the gallows, this last act settles it.

—Mr. E. P. Barry, general agent for the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, was in the city yesterday. He is the owner of considerable property in the state of Kansas, among which is, or was, a drug store. He had in his employ a practical druggist, whose services began about two years ago, and were accepted upon good recommendations. It scarcely appeared that this man was a defaulter to any amount, how large is not at present known.

—School called and the capsers commenced. All manner of little trials were played behind the teacher, and now and then an unruly pupil was led to the front and placed on the "dunce" seat. Mr. Wilbur F. Carle performed the duty of teacher in an admirable manner. During the recitation of the several classes some very clever local hits were made. At the "afternoon session" the visit or the school committee was one of the leading features. The programme contained an address of welcome by Katrina Van Tassel, (Mrs. H. F. Bliese); composition and declamation by Rose Cleveland, (Mrs. C. Haun), Patty Prim (Mrs. L. B. Beers), Timothy Wackness (Chas. Dunton), Fritz Stahns, (R. W. King), W. F. Viles, (S. B. Smith), and Dr. John C. Maxim.

—The first joint session of the literary societies of Milton College, took place at College Chapel on Thursday evening, January 27th. There was a good attendance, and the exercises gave general satisfaction. The following was the programme:

Music—Violin Solo, "Odeille de Bagdad," Prof. J. C. Maxim.

Music—Alto, Horn, Mezzo, Bass and Cello—"The Foreign Element of Our Nation—An Essential Constituent of Socialism," Prof. J. C. Maxim.

Oration—"Lord Channing on the Employment of Indians Against America," J. C. Maxim.

Music—Violin Solo—"Dinner Sweet," Prof. J. C. Maxim.

Oration—"Walter Scott's Scrooge," J. C. Maxim.

Music—Quartette, "Friendship, Love and Song," Misses Burdick and Smith, Mrs. V. H. Ward and Leotha.

Oration—"The Merchant of Venice," Mr. D. N. Morris.

Music—Violin Solo, "Long Ago,"
